

Join CME and unleash your competitive edge

Canadian
Manufacturers &
Exporters

Manufacturiers et
Exportateurs du Canada

Canadian Manufacturers & Exporters (CME) is the country's leading trade and industry association serving as the voice of manufacturers.

CME improves your competitiveness through:

- policy change;
- workforce skills development;
- productivity improvement and innovation programs;
- business to business opportunities;
- support resources for SMEs.

1

2

3

4

5

Events & Networking:

CME events encourage networking to help you develop partnerships, learn from your peers, increase sales, interact with your future workforce and connect to all levels of government.

Advocacy:

CME is committed to developing advocacy positions that are member-driven and helps shape policy through access to all levels of a government. CME is your voice in challenging policy, regulatory, and tax issues affecting you.

Trade:

CME's cross-Canada network gives you access to resources and intelligence to help you compete in domestic and international markets. CME also facilitate trade by representing the sector in international trade deal negotiations.

Productivity:

Our training programs help your business to develop internal 'champions', to cash in on green innovation funds, increase productivity and improve competitiveness. Our HR tools can support your company by finding, training and retaining employees

Return on Investment:

CME provides customized support services and can help you access available financial support in addition to offering discount savings—from office supplies to health benefits Your investment in CME is a smart business decision that will pay for itself time and time again.